
IN THE MATTER OF FILING
GUARDIAN AD LITEM REPORTS
IN FAMILY LAW CASES

ORDER

WHEREAS, It is local court policy to require Guardians ad Litem to file a written report in family law cases which details their investigation and recommendations as to the best interests of the minor child(ren); and

WHEREAS, said reports typically contain confidential information about the health and well-being of the parties and the children in the case; and

WHEREAS, the Circuit Court Judges and Commissioners desire to have said written reports filed in the "confidential" folder of the appropriate family court file;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED, that in the interest of judicial economy and reduction of paperwork, that all Guardian ad Litem final written reports containing the results of their investigation shall be held in the Confidential Folder of the appropriate family court file, open only to the parties, their attorneys, and court officials.
